

August 11th, 2010

Global Environment Information Display

The Global Environment Information Display organized by the United Nations Environment Programme is being held in Tokyo Big Sight's North concourse. The 20 photos on this display take as their theme the global warming. And they are changed 4 times a year.

Environmental measures, such as reducing CO₂ emissions, are important challenges which companies should undertake as part of their responsibility towards society. Our company is actively striving to reduce its CO₂ output. Measures we have undertaken in this regard include improving the efficiency of our air conditioning by coating all of our exterior glass surfaces with a light-intercepting material, and replacing some of our fluorescent lights with energy-saving lights.

Outline of Global Environment Information Display

Place	Tokyo Big Sight's North concourse
Organizer	United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP) http://www.unep.org/

